Anthony Gentile
Digital Forensic Analyst

PROFILE

Anthony Gentile is a Digital Forensic Analyst, specializing in cellular location analysis at Envista Forensics. Anthony is a Cellebrite Certified Operator (CCO), a graduate of the PenLink Advanced Analysis Course, and courtroom qualified expert in Cell Site Analysis and Call Detail Record Analysis. Prior to his career at Envista Forensics, Anthony worked in law enforcement as a Senior Special Agent at the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (SLED). During his career at SLED, Anthony was assigned to the State Surveillance and Intelligence Unit where he conducted historical and live cellular location analysis to locate violent fugitives as well as endangered persons, missing persons, and missing children. Anthony has experience in utilizing pen register trap & trace devices, historical call detail record analysis, social media records analysis, IP address analysis, and mobile phone device forensics to assist local and federal agencies on major cases. He has over 200 hours of training in cellular location analysis, wireless communications theory, pen register trap & trace collection analysis, and mobile forensics. Anthony has provided expert testimony of cellular location analysis in court.
